COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGERS OFFICE

As soon as the information is received from the Assessors, notice will be sent to all persons owning dogs who have not paid the 1959 dog tax that they have ten days in which to obtain their license from the Town Clerk. At the end of the ten day period the names of persons who have not obtained the 1959 license will then be turned over to Al Baker, Dog Constable.

Notices were sent by Certified mail to several persons having more than two discarded, abandoned, or junk autos on their premises adjacent to the highway. This notice was sent after a notice appeared in the Bethel Citizen pertaining to licensing junk yards and removing old vehicles if the owner did not care to apply for a license. The motive behind the enforcement of the junk yard law is not to obtain revenue through licensing, but to require the removal of the unsightly junks along the highways. Licensees have already been issued to Kenwood Hutchinson and Raymond Buck. Rose Swain has applied for a license and there will be a public hearing at the Town Office at 7:30 P. M. on July 23rd to act on his application.

Several have cleaned up their old vehicles, and have cooperated. Those that have not been notified and have not done anything towards removing the vehicles face prosecution. The final payment was made to Chase Bank this week on the Trojan Loader.

Sincerely,
Harold L. Bean

Occupants of the building were Mr. and Mrs. Clement Couture and three children, who escaped in their night clothes. They lost everything but were unharmed. It is believed that the blaze was started by an oil water heater.

The building was owned by the Rangeley Trust Company and was insured. The owners' loss was partially covered by insurance. The fire was fought by the Hanover, Rumford Point and Rumford fire departments.

H. EUGENE McALLISTER

Hiram Eugene McAllister passed away very suddenly Sunday, July 12th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lovejoy on the Bog Road in Gilhead where he had been the past six weeks.

He was born in Greenwood, August 18, 1875 and was the son of Hiram H. and Abbie Mietting McAllister. His early life after the death of his mother was spent in Grafton with his grandparents. Mr. McAllister worked in Bethel, Locke Mills and Newry for many years and will be remembered as a hard working man, who asked little from the world except a chance to earn an honest living, and to go about among his friends.

He had the misfortune to lose one leg several years ago and since then has been confined to crutches.

He had a wonderful memory and took a keen interest in the events of the day.

From July 1952 to about six weeks ago he had lived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lovejoy in West Bethel.

Mr. McAllister was a member of Bear River Grange.

The only survivors are several nieces and nephews in California and some distant cousins.

MOTOR MAIDS*Tip Of Bonnet To Safety FriendsBy Martha Johnson
Dodge Safety Consultant

A tip of our Motor Maids' bonnet and big bouquets to a number of our favorite people—folks around the country who are doing an excellent job of making driving both fun and safe.

In Kansas, the State Highway Commission reduced left-road-at-curve fatal motor vehicle accidents in year's time by 43 per cent—a saving of 21 lives, by changing signs along the highway. Now, instead of the driver having to hunt for them—the signs are larger, the color is different and more reflective material is used.

In metropolitan Detroit, both the Detroit Traffic Court and the suburban Dearborn Municipal Court recently fined drivers for splashing pedestrians.

In Hillsdale, N. Y., a woman driver sent this note to State Motor Vehicle Commissioner Joseph P. Kelly, enclosing her operator's license which would have been valid for another year: "Having reached the age of 81 with a perfect record of safe driving, it occurs to me that it would be a nice gesture to turn in my license and retire from driving a car, voluntarily, before I might become a menace to life on the highway."

And in Alpena, Michigan, another 81-year-old surrendered his license after 45 years of driving without an accident or ticket. "I can't drive as well as I should, so I'm quitting before I hurt somebody," he wrote officials.

In Milford, Michigan, the White Lake Township Police Department has inaugurated the thoughtful policy of issuing courtesy citation tickets instead of regular violation tickets for minor first offenses. In this recreational area, Chief of Police Andy Plano and Officer Lou Marsh report the citations are well accepted and are making a big impression on drivers without causing hard feelings toward the department.

Brown. With her husband, A. T. C. Emery Taylor, they expect to go next month to Hawaii, where he will be stationed for three years.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Burns are entertaining their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stage and son Philip, Marysville, Calif.

Mrs. Elsie Cole and Mrs. Edith Abbott accompanied by Mrs. Abbott's grandsons, James Bennett, Locke Mills and Alan Farrington, town, spent a few days at the Cole-Cushman cottage at Bailey's Island this week.

The food sale for the benefit of the Stephen Memorial Hospital Auxiliary held Friday was very successful, netting over $40.

The Red Cross Swimming Classes started Monday, July 13, at the head of Lake Christopher.

The Woodstock Parent Teacher's group will have a food sale Friday, July 17 at the Grange Hall, starting at 2 o'clock p.m.

Up a steep mud-choked wash—Positraction pays off!

NO MOUNTAIN CAT, MISTER...

That's a Chevy with Positraction!

That 3124 Fleetside has the sure-footed ways of a big western boulder. Runs through high brush country that would buck the life out of most trucks. Crosses streams without benefit of a bridge. Climbs talus grades where pine won't even grow. But that's all routine for this Chevy, equipped with Positraction® rear axle. It's hard at it every day for the Utah Fish and Game commission. Figure about 30,000 miles of mountainering before this Chevy is traded. And yet the district officer who drives it would let his badge hit the tie rods won't even need replacing!

Out in that wild, climbing Utah country, Chevy's suspension and frame and brakes, its Positraction rear axle and Thriftmaster 6 power are proving themselves under rougher conditions than most test engineers could dream up. They're proving that Chevrol's advanced engineering and design ideas pay off—in spades—when the going gets especially mean and dirty.

Positraction, of course, is a big plus on this job, providing the sure grip needed to dig through mud, snow, loose sand, whatever comes along. Could be that a Positraction-equipped 1½-ton pickup is the answer for your area of operation. Or maybe a 4-wheel drive Chevy. We've got trucks that specialize in getting in and out of any kind of country. Talk to your dealer about your needs. He'll show you what tough trucks are made of.

The Story of the East Andover School

—Its Teachers, and the Residents of the Community by Violet Swain

1926-1927 Vivian Martin now Mrs. Robert Milton of Auburn came to East Andover for $233.69. At this time a new heater replaced the old box stove and it was moved from the front to the back. This remained there until sometime in the 1930's. She has 3 children and 2 grandchildren.

1927-1928 Marie Elliot returned to teach. While she was there that year the school was clapboarded, painted and shingled. She received $20.00 per week. She remembers having the Lench children and the older Glover children.

1928-1929 Nancy Williamson, now Mrs. Herbert McAlister of Danville, came to East Andover the year following her graduation from Farmington Normal School. In November of that year she was married but she remained to finish the year.

They both resided with the Howards. They have four children, and three grandchildren.

One daughter graduated from Gorham State Teachers College and plans to be married this summer. They both attended the reunion and she told many interesting things about school 30 years ago.

One of her pupils was the hostess' husband, Robert B. Swain, others were Christine Glover (Ladd) and Norman White.

1929-1930 Lucie Voter, now Mrs. Wilfred Videto of Sabattus, replaced Mrs. McAlister the next year. They had been classmates at Farmington Normal and are still very good friends. Mrs. Videto still teaches school and they live quite close together. They and their husbands attended the reunion. She told of having the mumps while teaching the full term and how Mrs. Marie Lang substituted for her bringing the Christmas program, children, tree and all, to the Howard's so that she might enjoy it all. She recalled picnics in the grove; the stove funnel falling down; the log drives on the mill pond; the evening spent at Mrs. Howard's and how Mrs. Howard taught her to do fancy work.

1931 through 1934 Ruth Bailey, a local girl, now Mrs. Merle Akers of North Andover taught for the next three years. She received $17.00 a week. She has three sons and one granddaughter.

1934-1936 Herbert Hall came to a building to teach that did not have electricity. He had the largest beginners class that had ever entered, nine. Mr. Hall kept two sessions the first year because of the large enrollment. The last of the afternoons, in the fall and winter, it was dark before classes were dismissed. He told the superintendent that he would install lights if he could do his own janitor work, using that money to help care the building. The ceilings were very high and there were hanging lights, not very good lighting but a lot better than none at all. Before this there were brackets on the walls to hold lamps. He now lives in Ohio and has four children.

1936-1938 Roberta Thurston, now Mrs. Thomas Worcester of Andover taught for the next two years leaving to marry. She has four children, two graduated from Andover High in 1949. She returned to teach the other half of her family was all school age and has a very large number of students even at the High School building.

1938 through 1942 Violet Pearson, now Mrs. Robert B. Swain of East Andover and the writer of this article. It was my idea to have a reunion in June 1959 I taught here for four years, the longest anyone had ever stayed. I had grades 1-7 the first year and kept two sessions grades 1-4 went from 1940 until 1942. The 6, 8, and 7 grades were from 1942 until 1944. In the winter of 1943 grades 6 and 7 went to the village school and school referred to the local house. The heat was still the jacket stove, the seats were on skids and very hard to move. The fire was still the rough boards with no creosote. There was no soap and facilities for a stage. I boarded with Mr. and Mrs. McNeal until his death in 1949 and then resided to live with the Howards for the next two years. I have three sons and five next to the school.

1949-1951 Marion Bragdon, now Mrs. Marion Davis of And-burn, Miss Bragdon replaced me during one of the war years. She and Louise Crooker (Leach) became good friends and used to walk to Andover on Saturdays to take piano lessons from the late Hazel Fox. She boarded with Mrs. Howard and was the last teacher to have the pleasure of living with that wonderful lady. She has one son, Wayne, and has been teaching for two years in Shawmut, near Fairfield.

1943-1954 Mrs. Vivian Barlow, a resident of East Andover and the wife of George Barlow. Her home is next to the school house. After her family, of one son and one daughter, were both in school and the war made it hard to secure teachers in this town, Mrs. Barlow went to teaching. The school closed in 1944 and Mrs. Barlow went to the Elm Street School to teach, due to a shortage in teachers. In 1945 the school reopened for Grade 1-5 with about 20 children. In 1946, due to illness, Mrs. Barlow did not teach and Mrs. Marie Lang taught at the school until Christmas. Then the children were transported to the village for the remainder of the year. It was at this time the Superintendent suggested closing the school for good. The townspeople objected and so in 1947 Mrs. Barlow returned to the East Andover School with Sub-Principals through 5th grades and there she taught faithfully until 1954. She saw many changes in the many years that she was teaching there, a new ceiling was put in and lowered quite a bit; fluorescent lights were added, the first in town in a school building. An electric clock was added, a library corner installed with a low table and chairs for the younger children. A new inlay was laid and storm windows put on the shady side of the building. Beautiful new modern movable seats were the first in town along with a brand new desk. A piano was bought by the School-Sunday School and the Community Club sharing the expense. The blackboards were painted the pale green that was supposed to help ease the glare. A very good playground with teeters, swings, a merry-go-round and a slide kept the children happy at recess time and became a playground for small children in the evenings. She raised the money to buy the slide by putting on a Talent Show. The Community Club and community members put up the four unit swings and installed the merry-go-round which Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Swain bought. The Mill Program was started by Mrs. Barlow and she had more music in her school than had been for many years before or later. She had given to her a record player to be used for her music appreciation classes. She has been a teacher in the Dixfield Schools for the past two years and expects to return there in the fall.

1954-1955 Mrs. Dorothy Abbott, a resident of South Andover, came to teach in 1954 after the death of her husband, Steve. Since then she has taught at Roxbury. She left in May for Illinois, called there by the ailing illness of her son in law. Just before the reunion he died. She has one daughter and a son in the Navy.

1955-1956 Mrs. Eileen Dickey of Andover, wife of Everett Dickey, came to teach in the fall of 1955 after raising a family of three daughters and doing some substitute work.

The water had running water in bathrooms but she did have a lot of equipment and facilities to do with that former teacher who had not had in the school.

The school was no longer used as a school it is put to good use every Sunday morning from October through June when 45 pupils of the East Andover Sunday School meet under the leadership of their superintendent,

Mrs. Violet Swain; Assistant,

Mrs. Grace Simmons and Pianist, Mrs. Lucie Swain; teacher, Mrs. Muriel Farrington;

Mrs. Barbara Glover Meissner,

Lane Ladd, Wanita White,

Dorothy Smith, Mrs. Lucie Swain, Jean Stinson also served as teacher this past year.

Down through the years agents and superintendents have been many. In the 1800's and up until 1917 agents were T. W. Blaiddell, Charles Farrington, F. R. Merrill, S. W. Richard, Rufus Merrill, A. S. Gordon, Mrs. Lewis Ripley, Georgie Talbot, J. F. Keith, Bertha Poor, Rev. Sam Holden, Mrs. Y. A. Thorstan, Mrs. A. G. Merrick, Mrs. Sylvanus Poor, Mrs. Olive Dresser and Mrs. Alice Andrews. At this time the Union No. 24 was organized with A. S. Merrill, John J. Howard, L. P. Spinnay, Sherman Graves, Lawrence Peakes and Harvey McGuire.

Five of the above are still living.

Mrs. Sylvanus Poor, and Mrs. Alice Andrews Merrill of Andover; L. P. Spinnay, Tepcham; Lawrence Peakes, Bangor and Harvey McGuire of Mexico who is now building a home in Andover on the old McAlister Theatre lot. He plans to move here in about two years.

These men who served only in this country were J. Morris Hall, California; J. Mervin Farrington, East Andover; Richard Hall, S. Andover; John Parkman, East Andover.

The building was painted the last time by the Community Club and community members, and the town shingled the roof again in recent years. A bus route started in later years to transport both grade school and high school pupils to the village. The school was a bus stop — in 1956 the town built a plaza on the front of the building. The wood shed at the right of the building stored enough wood for the winter. In front of this building sat the flag pole. For years it was at the front of the building but the snow plows would knock it down so finally it was set to the crooked end of everyone's way!

The men in the community who served in the Armed Forces had an Honor Roll on the Community Club had a plaque made in 1952 for the following men who served in the European Theatre: Harold E. Glover (he is a career man now stationed in Washington, D. C.); Earl Meissner, living in East Andover; George Barlow Jr., a career man stationed in Atkins; Frank Leroy Farrington, living in East Andover; Maurice L. Kendall, Selectmen of Bethel.

COUNTRY FLAVOR

FELLY SOAKING

One doubts if many modern lads know about fellys. Today a 14 year-old handles a powerful tractor and the equipment that goes with it, but he does not know the dry weather problems concerned with the rims of wagon wheels.

The felly is the wooden rim to which the metal tire is attached. The dish of a wheel is the angle at which the spokes run from hub to felly. In the summer, as dry hot weather settled in, the felly shrank from the rim and the spokes loosened in the felly.

That was why one morning when farm work wasn't pressing, a man was likely to say, "Son, hitch Belle to the democrat and go down to the brook passage today. Be good for Belle's hooves to get a soaking.

The brook passage was a fording place near the old plank bridge. On both sides of the brook was an area of soft mud. While the four wheels of the wagon were soaking in the brook, Belle stood patiently in the mud.

Felly soaking wasn't exciting to a boy, but it was fun to explore beneath the bridge. In bare feet, one could inch along the slippery, moss-covered abutment rocks. Sometimes a long water snake slithered down stream, head held high above the water. Water bugs dashed back and forth, and silver-sided minnows flashed from side to side. Each year a pair of phoebe built a nest against one of the bridge stringers. The birds sat on the telephone wire and pronounced their names while a lad was beneath the bridge.

Felly soaking is a thing of the past. Democratas, fringe-topped surreys, buckboards and covered buggies no longer roll along country roads. Metal rims fastened to wooden fellys have given way to rubber tires. We cannot deny progress, but sometimes the countryman wishes that today's boys could know some of the quieter pleasures of yesteryear.

Rodney Swain, Perry Stinson and Billy Simmons; Grade 4, Sherman Maddix, Phillip Smith, Carolyn Simmons and Nancy Glover. Everyone of the children had either a father or a mother who had attended this same school in previous years.

These men served in Korea: William Cushing of Townsend, Mass.; Wilbur Chenevry of East Andover; James Bradley Hines, Rumford; Wellington Farrington, Andover; Charles Freeman Farrington, East Andover; Clifford Gammon, Mexico, Davis.

MAN'S RECIPE

Sunny Acres Corn Chowder

Butter-Base

I claim that the progressive debilitation of the culinary, social and cultural levels is partly due to the decline of corn chowder. A topflight corn chowder is a mighty tasty dish on a cool evening. This recipe proved one of the most popular in Country Flavor Cookbook. I experimented a long spell to achieve just his amalgamation of flavors blended into one harmonious whole. Don't hang me in effigy until you try it. You don't need salt pork to make a Grade A corn chowder.

Use four medium potatoes cut into small chunks, four mild onions sliced, two tablespoons butter or margarine, one 1/2 pound butter or margarine, two No. 203 cans cream corn, one quart whole milk, one half cup light cream, one and a half teaspoons salt, one eighth teaspoon pepper, one fourth teaspoon parsley flakes, one eighth teaspoon thyme, one eighth teaspoon marjoram.

Fry onions until brown in the two tablespoons butter. Cook the cubed potatoes in simmering water for 15 minutes. Use one half cup of potato water to rinse out the corn cans. Warm the milk and cream in a large pan and add the potatoes, onions, corn, eighth of a pound of butter, herbs, salt and pepper.

Heat to piping hot but do not boil. Set chowder aside to cool for at least two hours. Reheat to piping hot just before serving. I hope you will try this some cool day. I will be glad to hear your opinion of it.

EXTENSION MEMBERSHIP REACHES 17,334 FOR YEAR

Membership in the County Extension Associations of Maine reached a total of 17,334 on June 30. This is final membership figure for the year.

Richard C. Dolloff, secretary of the Maine Extension Association and county agent leader for the Extension Service, said the total included 6,401 men and 10,933 women.

Five counties increased their memberships in their Extension Associations over last year. They were Franklin, Androscoggin-Sagadahoc, Kennebec, Knox-Lincoln, and Penobscot.

This is the third consecutive year that Franklin County has increased its Extension membership. Kennebec County also increased last year.

Weekly Stock Market Round-Up

Prepared by The Investment Research Department of Hemphill, Noyes & Co.
Members of the New York Stock Exchange

July 15, 1958

INDUSTRY SELECTION

It is interesting to note that during the past six months while the general stock market has been rising, the stocks of many industry groups have not participated in this rise. The importance of selecting stocks in the right industry is emphasized by the fact that out of thirty principal industry groups, thirteen out performed the stock market average performance, three advanced at about the same rate as the stock exchange averages, three advanced at a slower rate, and eleven declined. Therefore, it is important to note which industry groups have performed well in the past few months and which ones are likely to do well in the intermediate future.

Glamor stocks have been particularly popular, noticeably those in the aluminum, chemical, drug and electronic industries. Other good performers have been airlines, automotive, farm equipment, industrial machinery and textile stocks.

Weakness was predominant in copper stocks (indicated weakness in copper prices); natural gas stocks (uncertainties as to Federal Power Commission action regarding well head prices); oils (overcapacity); bananas (earnings increment not up to expectations); tobacco (another cancer scare); and utilities (recent unpopularity of steady income securities).

As far as desirability of investment is concerned, we have up graded the following groups:

Automobile stocks, because sales of autos have risen far above earlier expectation and earnings of the respective companies are likely to be much higher than previously anticipated;

Dog stocks as we believe that earnings are increasing at a very rapid rate and for the next few

Good Printing

SERVES EVERYBODY

Good printing is a necessity in all forms of business. It can save hours of work, speed up routine tasks, eliminate common errors and help to avoid misunderstandings and costly delays or actual loss of business revenue.

Good printing is a convenience in the home. Inexpensive personal stationery is not only economical and in good taste but it is plain "good business" when used for other than social purposes. One's name and address plainly printed offer exact information of your identity in occasional correspondence.

The latest in modern business forms can be adapted to use in many comparatively small businesses. As a matter of economy of time and money, it will pay to see what we can do for you in this line.

Remember that printed matter can be bought at widely varying prices. The bargain hunter can only hope to get his money's worth. The cost of good printing need not be high, and the buyer is assured of satisfaction.

It will be of advantage to all users of printed matter to consult us before buying. We can supply calendars, NCR and one-time carbon forms, many kinds of forms and office supplies promptly and economically.

MOOSE VISITS TWITCHELL POND CABIN SUNDAY

Sunday morning, LeRoy Martin, who lives alone in a log cabin a short distance back from the State road passing Twitchell Pond, had a most exciting experience. While he was dressing with his back to the open door his cat began to growl and cry. Looking up to see what the matter was, he was much surprised to see a moose head in his door.

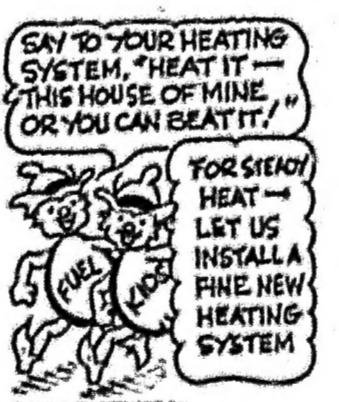

He was unprepared to face an angry moose, so he shot off a cap pistol which he uses to scare birds away from his garden. The moose didn't even appear to hear it.

Mr. Martin knew if the moose succeeded in entering he would wreck the cabin, so next he tried pushing the animal out by the nose. Instead he found himself on the floor with the moose snorting and shaking his head. Mr. Martin then looked around for a weapon and saw a large wooden maul. He got this and hit the moose several times as hard as he could which finally dazed it so that he hit and pushed until he was outside.

The moose stayed around and ate and trampled a strawberry bed and his vegetables into a total loss.

Mr. Martin says that recently he spilled salt on a rug just inside the doorway and probably the moose smelled it and wanted to lick the rug.
